

I would like to have private conversations with my wife about personal issues, knowing that Her and I are the only ones hearing our loving words.

Benjamin Franklin once said:

"those who would trade privacy for security don't deserve either"